MRS. NIVER CONTINUED ON BOARD OF CENSORSHIP BY THE GOVERNOR

Charleroi Woman Re-Appointed Under New Law That Increases Her Salary

BRUMBAUGH ISSUES RECALL

Startling Letter Sent to Senate in Withdrawing Appointments of Former Governor Tener—Gaither May Lose His Place.

Appointment of the board of moving picture censors for the state of Pennsylvania made Monday along with various other appointments by Governor Brumbaugh, included the name of Mrs. E. C. Niver of Charleroi, as vice chairman, continuing her office. J. Louis Breitingger of Philadelphia, was named chairman of the board, continuing his office and Ellis T. Oberholzer of Philadelphia was made the third member.

The appointments of Governor Brumbaugh were made after he had sent a startling letter to the senate withdrawing all of the recess appointments that had been made by his predecessor in office, Gov. John K. Tener. The board of censorship was appointed under the new Daix moving picture law signed by the governor Monday. Salaries are fixed at $3,000 for Mr. Breitingger, $2,500 for Mrs. Niver and $2,400 for Mr. Oberholzer.

The letter to the senate withdrawing all the recess appointments of Mr. Tener caused a sensation. However, it is understood that he will allow most of the appointments to be confirmed as his own. Late in the day he sent to the senate the following nominations:

Health commissioner—Samuel G. Dixon of Philadelphia, a re-appointment; superintendent state constabulary—Major John C. Groome, of Philadelphia, a re-appointment; trustee of State College—Henry B. Brown, of Williamsport, to take the place of J. D. Callery, of Pittsburgh, resigned; member of Pennsylvania Historical society—A. E. Sisson of Erie, former auditor general, to succeed W. U. Hensel, of Lancaster, deceased; brigadier general of the National Guard—Charles M. Clement of Northumberland county, William G. Price, Delaware county and Christopher T. O'Neill, Lehigh county.

The governor's appointments to the public service commission are awaited eagerly. It is practically certain that former Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker of Schuylkill and Milton J. Brecht of Lancaster will be retained. Chances are more than even that S. T. Tone of Pittsburgh also will be reappointed. C. Fred Wright of Susquehanna is expected to give way to Emercon Collins of Williamsport and John S. Rilling of Erie will succeed Frank M. Wallace of Erie. Senator E. H. Vane of Philadelphia is to name a man to succeed Emory Johnson of the Quaker City and Senator W. C. Sprout is to name the man to succeed Walter H. Gaither of Pittsburgh.

The Charleroi Co-operative store will sell Puritan flour, for one week 24 1-2 lb sack at 95c; 49 lb. sack at $1.90 and 100 lb sack at $3.50. 263-10

TWO MEN STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE AND BOTH ARE MORE OR LESS HURT

Jacob Laughlin and David Waggoner Suffer When Machine Hits Them in Corner Accident.

Jacob Laughlin and David Waggoner both of Charleroi were more or less injured Monday evening when they were struck by the automobile owned and driven by E. J. Charles of the Charleroi Savings and Trust company. The accident occurred at the corner of McKean avenue and Fifth street. The two men were standing there when Mr. Charles rounded the corner as he says blowing his horn. The machine struck both and it is said one wheel passed over Laughlin, while Waggoner was knocked down and sustained a badly injured wrist. Laughlin was taken to a doctor's office and Waggoner went home.

NO TRACE FOUND OF ACCUSED MAN

Officers Working Hard on Investigation Into Horrible Marianna Crime

ONE PLACED UNDER ARREST

No new phases have developed in Sunday night's tragedy in which M. Cohen was brutally murdered and his son, Moses Cohen, shot through the right shoulder when their home in East Marianna was visited by a gang of Russians and three male members of the Cohen household attacked.

Fred Kollos a Russian, was placed under arrest at his home at Marianna Monday morning and taken to the county jail at Washington, suspected of knowing something about the terrible crime. So far as can be learned, the officers secured but slight information from their questioning of him.

All members of the Cohen family left Marianna Monday, it being announced that they were going to Pittsburgh to the homes of relatives residing there. They were unable to throw any further light on the mysterious tragedy which has darkened their home.

Among the additions to the officers working on the case were County Detective William McCleary and several detectives.

Although questioned several times the Cohen family has not thrown any light as to why the Russians attacked the father and two sons. Officers generally seem to scout a robbery theory as does every one else. Had this been the aim of the band they believe they could have accomplished their purpose before fleeing.

No arrangements have been made as yet for an inquest over the remains of the slain man.

BURGESS PROCLAIMS 'MAY 26 ROADS' DAY

Whereas the Governor of this Commonwealth, Martin G. Brumbaugh and the court of Washington county have set aside the twenty-sixth day of May, 1915, to be Good Roads day throughout the state and county, respectively, when all good and able bodied citizens are requested to aid in the improvement of the public roads:

Now, therefore, I chief Burgess of the borough of Charleroi of Washington county, being heartily in accord with this movement, hereby set aside said day, Wednesday, the 26th of May, 1915 as Good Roads day of said borough, and request that all citizens of this municipality devote said day to the improvement of the roads in Washington county.

Given under my hand and seal, this 18th day of May, 1915.

TWO LADS APPEAR FOR HEARING FOR ROLLING ROCKS OVER HILL

Others Will Come Before Burgess Woodward Tonight—First Pair Let Off With Reprimand.

Two lads accused of rolling rocks over the hill along Lincoln avenue extension were let off with a severe reprimand by Burgess Woodward Monday evening, when they appeared together with their parents to answer to their charges. Two other lads are to appear tonight. It is alleged that the youngsters had started large rocks down the hill to the detriment of travelers along the road. An automobile party had a narrow escape as well as people in a buggy. One of the rocks which the police secured was a jagged one of a size that would have wrecked an automobile had it struck it properly, as well as ended lives. It went over the top of the automobile.

VANVOORHIS MAN UP FOR MURDER

Trial Begins at County Seat in Manslaughter Charge Against Schmutzer

OTHER CASES BEING HEARD

James Schmutzer of Van Voorhis, indicted for the murder of John Sandra at Van Voorhis on New Year's day last was placed on trial before Judge Irwin Monday. The commonwealth is not asking for a first degree verdict and the usual form of arraignment was not used. A jury was called and challenged as in any ordinary criminal case. John Sandra died as a result of being struck on the head by some blunt instrument. There was trouble among some foreigners at that place on that day in which the defendant is alleged to have participated. The commonwealth alleges he struck the blow that caused Sandra's death.

Charles Kovac was also injured in the fight and was in the hospital for several weeks. He is said to have not been right since that time and is now in the county home.

Before Judge Melvaine was taken up the case of the commonwealth against Robert Amperine and A. P. Canova a beer agent case, they being charged with violations of the liquor law.

The case is one where liquor from the Kitzanning Brewing company was shipped by the Penn Express Co. to Canova, an agent for the express company at Donora.

James Graham of Donora recently sentenced to 12 months in jail on a charge of felonious breaking and entry, has been paroled under the usual conditions. Walter Coatsworth of Donora has been named as probation officer. Graham agrees to pay $10 a month on the costs until they are paid.

Noteworthy Improvements Under Way at Popular Charleroi Institution

35 SHADE TREES PLANTED

Beautiful Appearance the Result—Buildings Being Renovated and Beach Being Put in Shape for Opening Within Next Few Weeks.

Improvements are being made at the Charleroi Bathing beach that will make it one of the most popular gathering places along the entire Monongahela valley this year. Not only will there be unexcelled bathing advantages offered out in addition a public park of the kind Charleroi has long needed will be located there. The lands fronting the beach are being as much or more improved than the beach itself. The beach will be put in shape for opening by about the first of June.

Fencing has been driven as a retaining wall against the bank, and sand has been strewn along the water's edge. Fences like that used last year to provide an adequate bathing place for juveniles is being erected, and large are lights are being hung above the top bank. At least one new float is being constructed and probably another will be secured.

The buildings located at the beach are being renovated and improved. An addition to the building devoted to the women has been constructed, it to be used by younger girls as a dressing room. The women's rooms have been improved and renovated. At the building for the men lockers have been installed, and the arrangement of the building changed. An additional building is to be erected by U. S. Orange, who has the refreshment privileges for this year. At the refreshment stand tickets for bathing will be procurable.

In improving the grounds 35 additional shade trees have been planted. Those which were planted last year are showing green now, so that there will be ample shade, and a generally nice appearance. A cinder path has been laid from Second street over to the beach, it being wide enough for an automobile driveway. Newly painted large park benches the entire length of the beach. Along the entire length of the beach, along with other improvements telephones will be installed in the buildings.

According to the arrangements for this year the beach will open daily at 12 o'clock noon. This will give the youngsters an opportunity to enjoy the privileges of the playground attractions in other parts of the town, and then to enjoy the beach advantages in the afternoon and evening.

As the summer progresses it is likely that other improvements will

ROAD BUILDING PLANS

The Republican majority in the Pennsylvania legislature has planned for extensive road building in every section of the state during the next two years. Gov. Martin G. Brumbaugh has urged to successful passage his child labor bill, his bill reorganizing the labor bureau of the state with a view to better protecting the wage-earners and finally his bill known as the workingmen's compensation act, another measure designed to protect the working people but the governor has also been earnest in his pledge to have the state provide better roads and he has been insistent in urging liberal appropriations for road building purposes.

On the senate last week a resolution was adopted almost unanimously proposing an amendment to the constitution permitting the people to vote a bond issue of $20,000,000 for road building purposes. This movement it is understood has the substantial support of the governor and the resolution is expected to be passed by the lower house of the legislature before the final adjournment on Thursday. The legislature also has appropriated about $9,000,000 for repairs and maintenance of roads.

Gov. Brumbaugh's integrity and sincerity in keeping the pledges of his party is regarded as a sufficient guarantee that the people will vote to provide for the proposed bond issue and it is expected that road building will be one of the most important industries of the state during the entire Brumbaugh administration.

The Republican majority in the legislature and Gov. Brumbaugh's determination to use that majority for the best interests of the whole people promise well, not only for the state but for the Republican party.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY

When in our morning prayer we ask to be spared from sickness, let us pause to realize that health is often in our own hands to keep or fritter away, remarks the state health commissioner.

We are often individually responsible for our personal health and in a degree for the health of those about us. In the vast majority of instances sickness is the result of indiscretion, which is not unconscious though we may not stop to calculate the results.

If we knowingly jeopardize our individual health and risk illness on the chance that we will escape "this time," we are putting ourselves in the same category with the criminal who risks his freedom each time he breaks the law. Ethically the one is no better than the other. The man who willfully transgresses Nature's laws by excesses may have far less self control than one who violates the penal code.

If each individual member of a community failed to exercise control of his body well-being it would be dangerously immoral. If we are will prevent the little illness of today from becoming the big sickness of tomorrow and after. For troubles of the digestive organs you can rely on to improve the general health of our nation it must be through stimulating individual citizens to appreciate their responsibilities.

Each man, woman and child should try and measure what individual health means. He should be taught to realize how easily it can slip away never to return. A single violation of a law of nature may mean death or what is worse a lingering illness.

We are vigilant in watching our money lest it slip away and leave us impoverished and yet we are prodigal with our physical resources forgetting that the poorest individual is he who has lost his health.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Some time ago an old Indian in the west broke his axe handle, and a farmer, taking pity on him, fitted the tool with a new one from his own supply says the Philadelphia Telegraph. Then, noticing that the axe was very dull, Uncle Josh decided to add to his kindness by sharpening it. To this end he asked the Indian to turn the grindstone.

"Well, what is it?" wonderingly asked the farmer, noticing that the Indian persisting in waiting there after the job was done. "Is there anything else you want?"

"Yes, sir," was the prompt rejoinder of the Indian. "You no pay me."

"Not pay you?" exclaimed the farmer, with a perplexed expression. "Not pay you for what?"

"For turn the grindstone!" calmly answered the chief. "Twenty-five cents."

Old Dick was a plantation negro, says the National Monthly. He was rarely sick and he claimed that it was due to the way he had lived. One day as he was walking down the street a local merchant, taking advantage of his ignorance, spoke to him thus:

"Dick, one of your best friends has just told me that you have ancestors of the worst sort."

"Now look heah, Cap'n Gawg. I don't want to hurt nobody, but I jes' want to know who dat man was, vot tol you, an' I sho' will go after him 'cause he done gone and 'sult me. Me got ancestors? Why, Cap'n that's as big a lie as wes eber told; I neber had nothin' in my life but the mumps and colic."

TOMBS IN THE AIR NEXT

New York Mausoleum Trust Proposes to Erect Cemeteries of Eight Stories.

The "Skyscraper Cemetery" bill is in again, says the New York World. It reappeared in the legislature recently, backed by the $2,000,000 mausoleum combine, which wants to build six, seven or eight-story structures for housing the dead anywhere in the state.

The project is represented by the promoters to be to the interests of the poor, because a person of small means may buy for a nominal sum a niche in which to be stored after death.

In practically all of the counties composing the metropolitan and adjoining districts new cemeteries are prohibited by law. Last year and the year before the mausoleum trust framed its bill so that restrictions of this sort, applying to Nassau county, were removed. This was to permit a lofty tomb adjoining the estates of wealthy New Yorkers. The opposition was so vigorous that the bill was killed.

The measure now contains a sweeping provision, permitting the erection of mausoleums anywhere in the state. The only condition imposed is that the state health commissioner shall approve plans for the structures. Legislators are of the opinion that this year's measure, by implication, repeals the acts which now protect certain counties from having cemeteries established in populated districts or where property is of great value.

SCULPTOR TALKS OF POPE

Man Who Made Bronze Bust of Head of Church Impressed With His Appearance.

Raffaello Romagnoli, the Florentine sculptor, who was summoned from Petrograd to Rome to make a bust in bronze of Pope Benedict, gives an interesting account of his work in the Vatican.

The pope refused to sit more than three times, and even then the sittings were short. When the cast was shown him the pontiff expressed himself well pleased, gave the artist an autograph portrait and said:

"I thank God that I am now done with all painters and sculptors. You are the only one who has had three sittings. Now, go. You have my benediction."

Romagnoli describes the pope's features thus:

"His holiness has a most interesting head—large forehead and cranium characteristic of a serene, well-balanced mind. The aquiline nose and deep-set eyes show force of character and intelligence; the eyes, though short-sighted, gleam with intelligence. The large, well-shaped mouth shows constancy of purpose. The chin is prominent, of the classical shape of Julius Caesar's and Napoleon's."

No Wonder She Blushed.

"Great things these pay-as-you-enter cars," remarked Joe Dillon, the most truthful press representative along the Great White Way. "Great things under some circumstances, particularly for the male sex. At one of the crossings coming down today, a young woman leaped on the step and started to go inside when the conductor stopped her with 'fare, please.' 'I'll pay you when I get inside,' she said, indignantly. 'Gotta have it now,' answered the conductor. 'I haven't the change,' blushed the girl. 'Gotta get yer money out,' insisted the conductor. 'I can make the change,' 'Well,' the girl half sobbed, 'I have to go in and sit down to get it.' And every woman within distance seemed to understand just what the poor girl meant, except that hood of a conductor. But the girl managed to worm herself into a seat and soon dashed out the wherewithal."

More Insane Men Than Women.

There is said to be one person in every 200 in an insane asylum, and the census bureau gives figures that are interesting as to the sex of the insane, more males than females being in the asylums. In a typical community of 200,000 there will be 205 males insane and 200 females. In the course of a year 72 men and 69 women would be admitted to an asylum. In 1889 the total number of insane persons in the asylums of the United States included 20,325 males and 22,897 females. Thirty years later the number had increased until there were 98,535 males and 80,995 females in the asylums. The proportion of men was even greater in 1910, with 128 males to 100 females.

Saw-Edge Collars.

It is well known that the modern mechanical laundry methods are very hard upon linen, and collars or cuffs soon have a rough edge, which irritates the skin, even though scarcely visible to the naked eye. To avoid this it suffices to run over the edge a small rod having a suitable groove near one end, so as to flatten down the rough edge.

HARRISBURG MAN IS NOW HAPPY

I. E. Beckwith Says Wonderful Remedy Gave Him Great Help.

I. E. Beckwith of Harrisburg, Penn., was a victim of disorders of the stomach and intestinal tract. He tried treatment after treatment. Nothing gave him relief.

Then one day he discovered Mayr's Wonderful Remedy—and soon was happy.

Mr. Beckwith wrote to Geo. H. Mayr, the maker of the remedy and for twenty years the leading druggist of Chicago.

"I believe that Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is the greatest stomach remedy on earth. One dose would convince any one who is troubled with his stomach of its wonderful merits. It removed some of the most awful looking stuff from my stomach, I have taken other remedies, but they never helped me."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfied money will be returned.

How to Fight Tuberculosis

In a paper read last year before the New York County Medical Society and published in part in the Louisville "Medical Progress," Dr. J. W. Garhart, of San Antonio, Texas, a physician who has devoted much time to the study of tuberculosis, said: "Since time immemorial, tuberculosis, or natural starvation, has been the cause of the human body, they must be supplied in the foods or supplemented in mineral preparations, or natural starvation causes with tuberculosis unchecked. The widespread and unchecked prevalence of tuberculosis and other preventable diseases is due largely to the deteriorated (starving) conditions of multitudes throughout the civilized world."

Thus from another authoritative medical source comes justification for the use of food. The first act of tuberculosis.

Since this is one of the ingredients of Beckwith's Alternative, much of the success attending the wide-spread use of this remedy doubtless is due to the combination of this salt in such a way as to render it easily absorbed, and thus, no stomach disturbance and since it contains neither opiates, narcotics nor habit-forming drugs, it is safe to try.

Beckwith's Alternative has effected remarkable results in non-specific cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and allied chronic affections of the throat and bronchial passages. In many instances such conditions, formerly, have yielded completely to it.

WORKMEN'S LAW TO GOVERNOR

Compensation Bill Will be Signed in Near Future.

ANOTHER PARTY PLEDGE KEPT

Assurance Was Given People by the Republican Party That a Strong Act Would Go on the Books—Movement For Constitutional Convention Killed in House—Other Notes of the Closing Days of the Session.

Harrisburg, May 18.—The closing days of the Pennsylvania legislature ends the last of the big laws advocated by the Republican party on its way to the governor. It is a strong employer's liability and workmen's compensation act.

With the falling of the gavel finally this session every Republican in the

REP. THOMAS F. McNICHOL.
Who Has Been Active in Upholding Governor Brumbaugh's Bills.

Senate and House, as well as their constituents at home, may point with pride at the work accomplished since January 26, in pledge keeping achievements it has been without a precedent.

The Roney bill, submitting the question of calling a convention next January to revise the Constitution of Pennsylvania, was defeated by the House of representatives by a vote of 54 yeas to 122 nays, after a hot debate that continued for an hour.

Representative Charles J. Roney, of Philadelphia, sponsor of the bill, led the fight on the floor of the house for its passage.

"This is the biggest issue before this legislature, next to child labor and workmen's compensation," he declared.

He called attention to the fact that since the present constitution was adopted in 1874 many changes have been made in it.

Opponents of the measure argued for a delay of two years in considering a new constitution, and asserted that the cost of holding a constitutional convention, $500,000, was too great to be borne by the state in its present financial condition. They urged that under the provisions of the Stern bill providing for the appointment of a commission to study the need for a revision, and to gather data and report back to the next legislature the necessity for a new constitution, there would be a delay of two years.

The Stern bill has already passed the house and is now in the senate.

Opposed to Convention.

Representative Baldwin, of Delaware, led the opposition. Representative Stern, of Philadelphia, also spoke against the measure, while Representative Walters, of Franklin, spoke in favor of it.

Representative Roney, in answering the opponents of the bill, asserted that since the present constitution went into effect it had cost the state more than $1,000,000 for advertising the amendments alone.

Suffrage leaders believe that the enactment of the "woman watchers" bill, now ready for the governor's signature, will help the fight for the franchise materially. The bill provides for two woman watchers at every polling place at the November election.

For one thing, it will give us a great opportunity to learn the practical side of what we are struggling for," said Miss Caroline Katzenstein, of the Equal Franchise society, of Philadelphia. "For another, it will help get men interested in seeing women at a polling place," she added.

Civil Service Bill.

The Walton bill, creating a civil service board in effect of the third class to affect the appointment of positions to the police, engineering, electrical and fire departments, passed the senate and now goes to the governor for final action. It is signed it will take effect at once. The governor will probably sign the bill without much hesitation.

The bill affects all city employees in the departments named, who have been employed continuously for two years or more. Those appointed by the present council do not come under the bill, unless previously employed in the same department.

A civil service commission is created to be composed of an educator, physician and citizen. They are to be appointed by the council and are to serve without pay. A waiting list of eligibles is to be kept and whenever a vacancy is created in a department, the names of the three highest persons on the list, a choice must be made from these three, and this action is then subject to approval or disapproval by council. Persons employed by the city in the police, fire, electrical and engineering departments, who have been two years' service, are exempt from examination and will hold their places during good behavior.

STATEMENT ON NEW CHILD LAW

Governor Signs Bill and Gives His Reasons.

HAS SOME SPLENDID FEATURES

Chief Executive Says That the Measure Will Operate in the Interest of Future Citizenship—Regret That All Parties Did Not Agree Upon the Measure.

Harrisburg, May 18.—In signing the child labor bill and thereby placing Pennsylvania in the front rank of states engaged in the task of juvenile conservation, Governor Brumbaugh gave out a strong statement assuring the people to receive the new law with kindly consideration. He points out its splendid features and predicts that it will prove of great advantage to the men and women of the future. Following is the governor's statement in full:

REP. RICHARD A. POWELL,

"In approving the Cox bill to provide for the health, safety and welfare of minors, it is well to keep in mind the fact that the Republican party in its platform, and its candidate for governor in his campaign, gave positive assurance that an advanced law of this kind should be enacted. The attempts to do this in preceding sessions of the legislature have failed. The reasons are matters of history.

"When this session was called it was evident that the same contending parties were at issue upon the provisions that should be included in any bill regulating the employment of minors. I personally felt this keenly. It was my desire to bring these contending groups together in favor of a fair and honest bill. I recognized the point of view held by each and, having for many years not only studied this problem, but actually had to do with its administration under existing laws, I was able to frame an act that would be fair to our great industries and also just to our great asset—the children who toil in Pennsylvania.

It is to be regretted that all parties to the interest did not agree upon the measure. It was widely and frankly discussed, and eventually appealed to a commanding majority of the assembly as a wise and proper measure.

Humane Features.

"It provides many humane and important features upon which all were agreed. Upon the hours per day and per week it was, I am sorry to say, impossible to reach an agreement. The hours of this act are fair, fifty-one per week, nine per day, and coupled with this provision is a feature, new in the state, providing for a maximum of hours per week shall be devoted to attendance upon a vocational school.

This school is new to our American thought. It is the most important feature of the act. Children between fourteen and sixteen years of age ought to be in school—at least part of each week. Unless they are at work they must be in school under present and proper laws. Those who do not work at fourteen ought not to be barred from further education.

"If we believe in our common democracy we must believe in the enlightenment of its members. This is fundamental in our American civilization. This act is intended to advance the standards of our citizenship and perpetuate in wiser ways our sacred institutions by giving more enlightenment and vision to our people. No true friend of our civilization, no believer in the genius of our institutions, can gainsay the wisdom of the necessity for this provision.

"From every point of view, and having in mind the welfare of the commonwealth, the prosperity of our industries, and the conservation of the young life of the state, this act should receive the kindly consideration and the hearty acceptance its beneficent provisions warrant.

"M. G. BRUMBAUGH."

Defeat of the bill in the legislature to increase the tax on automobiles to the extent of 25 per cent means that another revenue raiser will not materialize.

At present it looks as if the anthracite coal tax will be the only big revenue bill to get through. It should net the state about $3,000,000 a year.

The governor is opposed to the bill preventing substitutions after the primaries, and for that reason the bill aimed at that object was not pushed. Philadelphians, who are interested in fusion, were much opposed to the proposed act.

WHY REMEMBER THE UGLY? REALLY NOT SO VERY CRAZY

Would Seem to Be as Easy to Recall Points of Beauty of One's Acquaintances

Did you ever remember the sensation of hearing yourself suddenly described by another who did not happen to know that you were not a person? It is so you may have heard yourself described as "that short-legged man with the seraphic gray mustache, you know."

You may have been pained or amused—or both—by the sudden sense of humor or the whimsy of things that do not disappear at your portrait. Just before some time to a pair of men when one of them is trying to recall to his companion a third individual, the latter seen perhaps only once years ago by the auditor. The gentleman recalling the other man's memory is likely to sketch the absentee in a few bold strokes, something like the following:

"Oh, sure you remember him—the fellow with long yellow teeth—he parted his hair near his ear and he had a scar on his chin."

"Now, I do," cheerfully replies the other at this piece of graphic description, and then adds his own touch: "He was with a little chap who started and wore big spectacles of tortoise shell."

And the interesting question it brings up is why do people, generally speaking, remark defects and singularities rather than perfections and beauties? A man with long yellow teeth might have had fine eyes and a noble head set upon his shoulders, and a begoggled chap with a stammering tongue might have had a Greek profile and an artist's hands.

We are assured that beauty is everywhere, yet people seem to take particular note of the ugly. No doubt it is easier to see the ugly than the beautiful in humanity, but why take the easier way?

Transit of the Human Voice.

The sound of the speaking voice must be transformed rapidly into heat if it is to be heard distinctly. When the sound persists the echoes overlap and the acoustics of a room is faulty. By measuring the tones of the voice in a lecture room of Harvard university, which were at first audible for five and a half seconds after utterance, Dean Sabine of the graduate school of applied science changed the materials in the room with reference to the factors of reverberation, interference, and resonance or "echo" with pronounced success. An important article by him in the Journal of the Franklin Institute concludes as follows:

"While these several factors, reverberation, interference and echo, in an auditorium at all complicated are themselves complicated, nevertheless they are capable of an exact solution, or, at least, of a solution as accurate as are the architect's plans in advance of construction. And it is entirely possible to calculate in advance of construction whether or not an auditorium will be good, and, if not, to determine the factors contributing to its poor acoustics and a method for their correction."

Rough on Tommy.

The mails from home had just been received by a certain regiment. Not only were there letters, but many parcels from relatives and friends at home for lucky soldiers. One of the Tommies received a large box addressed to himself, and with a triumphant yell he rushed off to his company's lines and gathered there around him to share in the eagerly anticipated contents of his box.

"Smokes, lads!" he cried as he unfolded the wrapping. "From the old man; I know it. An' there's sure to be a bottle or two of Scotch."

He opened the box, gave one look at the contents and collapsed in a heap.

"What is it?" cried his comrades, pressing around.

"It's from old Auntie Marr," groaned the disappointed warrior. "Bandages an' ointment an' embrocation an' splints, an' a book on 'Or to Be Your Own Surgeon!'"—London Tit-Bits.

Private Cars.

In the town of Mombasa on the East coast of Africa the private car question has been settled to the satisfaction of every white resident by providing a private street car for each of them. The cars are pushed by a native black and are small. They are fitted with a wide seat which will hold two persons.

The tracks of this private road lead through the main streets of the town, with switches to the stores and clubs. Each owner of a car has a switch to his yard and boards his car in the same manner as an automobilist.

The road is financed by each car owner, who pays a certain sum each year for upkeep. The road is used for no other purpose than to carry the owners on their outing or calling expeditions.—Wall Street Journal.

Finding Key in Dark.

The latch key on a ring ordinarily is the most difficult to find particularly in the dark, but if it is attached to the ring it will come out right side up and ready for use. A chain saves the annoying experience of reaching home only to discover the keys have been left at the office, but for those who do not like to carry a chain, an extra ring may be attached to the important key in place of the chain. It is then easy enough to find the ring among the keys, even in the dark, and on getting hold of it, a slight shake brings the desired key into position for use.

Man With Money to Invest Might Have Made Big Profits—Many Cases on Record.

A man entered a picture gallery the other day and said:

"I've got $100,000 that I want to spend in the encouragement of native art. I want to buy paintings by unknown masters of talent. This will help the painters along, and if I choose wisely it will be a good investment on my part. I put myself in your hands."

Needless to say the dealer was more than pleased.

"You're a wise man and a good man," he muttered, and he had already chosen for his patron 170 canvases, valued at $67,000, when a uniformed keeper entered. The patron was asked to leave.

"But, dear reader, are you smiling, stop and ask yourself if that lunatic's reputation was so very lunatic, after all."

Met, so daily to their bankers with sums far greater than $100,000; they ask their bankers to choose investments for them; and the bankers choose N. G., which later on drops 70 points; and P. D. R., which drops 37 points; and New Haven, which drops 150 points, and S. O. H., which vanishes altogether. Yet the action of these men is not deemed insane and nobody dreams of smiling at it.

Why smile, then, at the lunatic's action? The lunatic a score of years ago could have spent his $100,000 on Whistlers at $50 or $75 that are now worth $200,000, on Tinnies at $100 that have risen to $5,000; on Sisleys at $150 that easily fetch $7,500.—New York Tribune.

SMALL SAVINGS MEAN MUCH

Better for a Youth to Shave Himself Than to Receive 1,000 Guineas, Says Wise Man.

A wise man said 150 years ago that it was far better for a youth to learn to shave himself than to receive a gift of one thousand guineas.

The man who shaves himself every morning saves a great deal of time and also the income of a good $1,000 bond for that day.

The man who cuts out one ten-cent cigar every day saves at least the dividend on 12 shares of railroad stock.

One less drink of ordinary whisky a day would pay for the bread of two persons for that day.

Uncle Sam will carry a letter for you 10,000 miles for what you paid for that one Turkish cigarette you are smoking.

If you had five morning newspapers sent to your home you would grumble at your own extravagance. That single cocktail before dinner costs you more than twice as much.

Russell Sage insisted that the easiest way he knew to earn the income of a dollar for a whole year was to walk to his office once.

Kisses for Health.

A doctor, commenting on the healthfulness of kissing, stated that, though many health reasons have been given why one should not indulge in a kiss, little has been heard of the other side.

"The main health reason," he said, "is that it acts like magic in soothing down irritable nerves. Take, for instance, if, on arriving home, you find your wife's temper rather high. A prompt and affectionate kiss will dispel it, and at the same time save you from a nerve-racking Mrs. Caudle lecture across the tea table."

Again, one of the children is peevish. A mother's kiss here will more often than not soothe down the child's nerves. A kiss acts in some peculiar way on our nervous system, and it involuntarily responds by making us cheerful.

"A kiss, when installed in bed, will send the children off into the pleasant sleep, and if dreams come they will be pleasant rather than horrible and gloomy."

A Pathetic Letter.

In the height of the great cotton situation many interesting letters were received by representatives and senators from Dixie. The following one—most pathetic in spite of its odd spelling—was received by Senator Bankhead:

"Gents: I have heard that forreign countries in Europe are issing merritoriums, so that the people can put off paying there debts a while. Now, I have 15 bales of cotton and owe debts amounting to about six hundred dollars. I can't sell my cotton for enough to pay out and leave anything to pay taxes and live on next year. If they are selling merritoriums in New York I wish you would see what it will cost to buy me one for the amount of my debts, good for six mos."

"Yours truly, ———"

To Avoid Colds.

A few points to remember if you would avoid taking cold—never go directly from a very warm atmosphere into very cold air. Don't jump from an overheated room into an ice-cold bed on a sleeping porch. Remove your wraps when shopping indoors on a cold day, or when visiting. Don't bundle up the throat, but don't expose the whole chest. Seventy degrees should be the highest temperature in your living rooms or offices. Don't over-expose, then expose yourself to infection in a draft or in a hot room that is probably full of disease germs. Keep your vitality at par, avoid people with bad colds, and you will probably get through the bad seasons with no more than a sniffle or so.

BIG FEATURE ATTRACTION IS WATER CARNIVAL TO BE SEEN IN CHARLEROI

At last this city is to see something entirely brand new, novel, sensational and thrilling when the famous Rice and Dore Water Shows come to Charlevoi on Thursday, May 20. The interesting story, told in pantomime of "Neptune's Daughters," with an expert cast of water pantomimists, trick and fancy swimmers, skilled log rollers, spring board divers, acrobatic aquatic experts, really funny men and women clowns, the highest divers in the world off a ladder 102 feet high, an intrepid display of dangerous skill in the "Monte Christo" sack escape as illustrated in the book of that name, and other thrilling features. This novel and sensational program is given in a large circus ring holding a quarter of a million gallons of water. The inventions of the sub-marine experts were tested to the limit to produce such an astounding feature as the total disappearance of the mermaid crew to visit old Father Neptune at the "Bottom of the sea." This event creates more mystery and wide discussion than anything that has been offered the amusement public for many years. "Where did they go?" and "how long is it possible for Neptune and his mermaids to remain under water?" are exclamations heard from all points of the audience. Meantime on the waters placid surface an aquatic program is being given by the greatest troupe of over fifty water experts, never seen anywhere else, unless one has seen this self same exhibition for the entire company has been under this same management ever since its organization some three years ago in New York City. At last the tension is relieved by the appearance of old Neptune who announces patrimonically, the mermaids, his daughters may now return from his watery home and a genuine sigh of relief escapes the audience on beholding one at a time, the happy mermaids appear on the waters surface and swim to the guard steps, seemingly and really none the worse for their long absence in "the deep blue sea." This program is given completely and entirely at each and every exhibition and is of immense interest to the children, also likewise enjoyed by the grown ups, particularly for its extremely sensational novelty.

WHAT THE WAR MAY EFFECT

Some Good Possible to Come Out of the Frightful Destruction Now Going On.

Is the war a "dreadful catastrophe"? Members of the western branch of the World Presbyterian alliance objected to the designation and voted it out of a resolution. Their view was that the present European struggle might be ordained of God and designed for the betterment of the world. Perhaps that view may be correct, but we shall have to wait for the verdict of history. One authority has made the computation that it took 2,099 battles to win liberty of conscience, thought and speech. If so, the result was worth the cost. Culture was diffused through the war, of Alexander the Great and the foundations of modern government were laid by the conquests of Julius Caesar. There is a great difference of opinion as to whether the Crusades achieved any good, and the beneficent effects of the Napoleonic wars are difficult to discover. Perhaps the very best result that we may expect from the present conflict is that it will demonstrate war to be too costly, too barbaric, too inconclusive a method of settling international differences to be indulged in again. All who have watched the casualty lists, heard of the sufferings of the non-combatants, calculated the loss of industrial efficiency or deplored the vandal destruction of cathedrals, museums, universities and other art treasures will at least hope that such may be its influence on the nations of the world.

MANY REFUGEES IN IRELAND

Belgians Being Well Taken Care Of by Hospitable People of That Country.

The fact that many Belgian refugees are being cared for in Ireland is disclosed in a letter received by a Brooklyn woman from her daughter, now in London, who says: "The Belgian refugees are being well taken care of in Ireland. I have seen something of them in Dublin and Cork. In Cork they are under the direct control of a Miss O'Brien and a competent committee. Miss O'Brien gives a rich sympathy and understanding to her work that already brings some hope to these sad people. In one house in Cork—a municipal lodging house—there were 68 old men and women, middle-aged, young people, children and babies—two born since their mothers arrived in Cork. They are all peasants from the small villages near Louvain and Aerschot. One old man of ninety, a prosperous farmer, having possessed four cows, one costing 500 francs, left with his wife two or three days before the arrival of the Germans, the priest telling them to seek a place of safety. He has neither seen nor heard of his children or grandchildren since he left Belgium. The poor old man won't wear an overcoat; he says it's so heavy he couldn't walk to Belgium in it. Many of the refugees refuse to go to Ireland; it's so far they fear they will never get back to Belgium."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Candy From the Fields.

One of the latest promises from modern discoveries is that the candy of the future may be grown in the fields. Alfalfa is the medium. A man who owns food mills in Idaho and Montana announces that he can make at least seventy-five different kinds of candy from alfalfa. There is also a mill in California that makes meal from alfalfa, which is for the raw material of the candy maker. A rich grade of sirup may also be made from alfalfa. The discoverer is so enthusiastic over the results of his alfalfa research that he is planning for the manufacture of alfalfa flour, which he asserts will be superior to all other flours for baking. This mill will probably be ready in six months. He has a mill in Idaho that has been making a balanced food for live stock out of alfalfa. If the candy experiment turns out to be a reality, there may be expected a large increase in the acreage of the planting.

Deserted Egypt Mourns.

Egypt is suffering greatly from the European war. There is no season this year. The pleasant parties at Cairo and Alexandria are missing and the picnic, the little tours, the journeys up the Nile have all ceased to be. There are only the English, who must be here, and a few French, but no Germans or Austrians, no Italians, and, above all, mournful to state, no Americans.

Most of the big hotels are closed. The Grand Continental and Shephard's are open, but the Savoy, the Semiramis and the Ghezireh Palace will not open this year. Helouan is isolated with only one hotel and a pension open. A few hotels maintained by the aged invalids who insist upon going there are open at Abassieh, at Luxor and at Assuan. Egypt mourns from the donkey boys to the naughty managers of its great hotels.

Most Copper Produced Here.

The United States is by far the largest copper producer in the world; in fact, we produce more than all the rest of the world together. The growth of the copper industry in the United States has been notable, according to figures compiled by the United States geological survey. In 1845 the production was 224,000 pounds; in 1913 it was 1,224,454,098. The total production of the United States from 1850 to 1913 was 18,897,476,910 pounds.
